

Business Problem Statement

We are lending more money than before, but our safety checks are broken. The tools we use to spot reliable borrowers aren't working, so we can't accurately predict who will pay us back. Even though we think we are playing it safe, we are actually taking on bad debt that will cost us money in the long run.